deer season, and are already planning for the last fifteen days of November.

Frederic Rural Agricultural School is sponsoring, through the Senior Social Studies, a "Better Deer Season." Knowing that there are over 200 square miles in our school district that is better deer land than anything else; that there are plenty of deer in this large area; and that we are only six hours, or less, driving from all places in southern Michigan; that gives us all the reasons for making a "Better Deer Season" in Frederic and surrounding ter

To help many hunters, the seniors have erected a large "Hunters Den," which will be free information headquarters for all hunters traveling on highway U. S. 27. The Free Services of fered are many and valuable. Places recommended for board and room for hunters will make it easier for many hunters new to this locality. Many homes have old hunters coming back as well as new ones already booked for this season. Already the school is answering inquiries and information requests. Large maps will show where to hunt and how to get there as well as lists of good guides for hire at any time, and where to find them.

Knowing that most deer hunters like entertainment and fun after a day's hunting, the community and school has attempted to fill the bill. On November 14th and 15th will be the School Carnival planned for the occasion, with many amusements free gifts and prizes and plenty of fun for everyone.

It was held, however, that the depart-ment of state may eliminate names which are manifestly fictitious, such as "Joe Palooka" Those that have no addresses given; and those listing nonexistent wards.

Thus the funny names served one important purpose. They were funny enough to attract statewide publicity and to highlight, at least to some degree, a grave weakness in the state's election machinery. The instances cited here are by no means all that could be mentioned to illustrate the disregard of the purposes as to petition signing. A careful study of almost any batch of petitions filed to qualify an issue for the ballot indicates that this form of voting has become something of a farce. It might be argued whether signing a petition is the same as voting at the polls. However, the constitution provides same qualifications. That is to say, only qualified electors may do either. The big difference appears to be that while there is ramified machinery set up to prevent fraud at the polls and to punish the culprit who tampers with the ballot box, there is little besides his own conscience deter the petition promoter.

Constitution to Blame?

The fault, it appears, rests principally with the constitution it self. In the articles dealing with initiatory petitions for legislation day her brothers Norman and or constitutional amendments it Bernard and Miss Helen Isen- is provided that each section of hauer accompanied her back to a petition shall bear the affidavit of the persons soliciting the sig-

Public Indifference

to the responsibility of petition signing is partially to blame. It is commonly admitted that persons put their names on petitions they know nothing about other than what the circulator may tell them. The recent barrage of protests made public by persons who said they signed Communist party petitions under the belief the documents were for an entirely different purpose illustrates the point. What are the chief evils of promiscuous petition signing?

They might be classified as:

1. Issues are put on the ballot that perhaps have no right to be there other than because an aggressive, small group wants it. 2. Cluttering-up of the ballot by too many complex proposals serves to confuse voters and to distract their attention from really worthwhile measures.

3. Representative government is not given a chance to function freely.

Possible Remedies

A remedy for the petition problem then, appears to have two sides. One is a more active and enlightened public consciousness and the other is a more effective legislature, he probably didn't legal setup to regulate petitions. It has been suggested by some observers that certain of the same safeguards which have thrown about the ballot box should be used to safeguard petition signing. In other words, best deer hunting in Crawford persons wishing to affix their county also excellent fishing, names to a petition should, perhaps, be required to go to some But the fact was that they were public officer in their vicinity who would have a petition form scribbled into the document available and who would be able FOR RENT-Two-apartment in blithe defiance of Michigan's to certify that they were qualified the ballot.

Proponents of such a scheme point back to the days when there were no voting booths, no official ballots, and little if any secrecy at the polls. Ballot box stuffing, false counting, counterfeiting of ballots, "repeater" vot-ers, and impersonators were all day. These practices have been either eliminated or greatly merely a ministerial officer and modified as a result of a tighten-

One of the chief reasons this improvement has been the Australian ballot. When electors began to use this ballot they were obliged to look the entire list of candidates in the face so to speak. They were less inclined to be led to the polls like sheep with a ballot printed by their party and kept under surveillance while they dropped it into the box. One political commentator has said he Australian ballot served the high purpose of "putting some intelligence into the 'brute vote'."

It is on similar grounds that critics condemn Michigan's present petition setup and urge steps to improve it. They regard most of the petitions on file with the department of state as expressing nothing more than a "brute vote", and they feel it is quite as possible and perhaps every bit as essential that "some intelligence" be put into it, also.

BLUE GOOSE LINES

Washington, D. C. EMBARGO ON JAPAN DEBATED The group inside the cabinet which favors a complete stoppage of Japan's raw materials of war, especially her oil, includes Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Knox, Secretary of Interior Ickes, and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau-also certain admirals in the navy. Perhaps it is significant that the strongest advocates of complete embargoes against Japan are the three Republican members of the cabinet-Stimson, Knox and Ickes. On the other hand, the state de-partment plus some of the admirals favor a go-slow policy toward Ja-pan. They believe in applying the embargoes gradually, or as Mr. Ickes describes it, "cutting off the dog's tail by inches."

The state department concurs that cutting off Japan's oil would paralyze her fleet after her present 21/2 months' supply was exhausted. But they also believe it would force Ja-pan to move into the Dutch East Indies immediately in order to get more oil.

Last week one argument over this point and over general naval policy in the Far East developed into a hot debate between the navy, on one side, and Hull and Welles on the other. It took place at the White House, in front of the President, who did most of the listening. Hull and Welles contended that if we stopped Japan's oil supply she would certainly attack the Dutch East Indies, and that the United States could not possibly afford to have ships in that area because they might be needed in Atlantic waters. Welles pointed out that the Germans might seize the Azores or the French naval base at Dakar, West Africa, which would menace South America

To this, Admiral Leahy, now gov ernor of Puerto Rico and one of Roosevelt's closest naval advisers replied: "Gentlemen, we don't have to worry about Dakar and the Azores now. The British fleet can still prevent Germany from taking them. But a few months from now it may be different. By next spring, or even this winter, the war may have gone against the British in the Mediterranean, and then we'll have two oceans to defend. Now we have only one."

U. S.-BORN JAPANESE Only insiders are aware of it, but the new nationality act slaps down another embargo on Japan. It plugs up a hole in the old immigration laws which permitted American-born Japanese to go to Japan, serve several years in the Japanese army, then return to the U.S. A. and resume citizenship. This has been quite common among the large 000 Japanese population in Hawaii, 000 where many Japanese parents consider it their duty to the emperor to send their children to Japan for military service. That the new law is specifically aimed at Japan-and her Axis allies—is shown by the fact that when the act was originally written, anyone who enlisted in a foreign army automatically forfeited citizenship. This would have expatriated Americans serving with the Canadian and

The bill actually passed the house in this form, but then the senate immigration committee did some editing. As finally passed, citizenship is not lost if no oath of alle-giance is taken. Canada and Britain do not require the oath of Americans. Japan and her Axis pals do. Note-The new law also provides that American parents of children born abroad must have resided in the U.S. at least 10 years prior to a birth in order to transmit citizenship. This is aimed at expatriates who retain their citizenship, with all its obligations on the government to protect them, but don't think enough of the United States to live in it.

ARMY PROMOTIONS Any lowly recruit in the new conscript army has a chance to become an officer within the single year of training. There has been a lot of confusion about this, and editorials have been written complaining that this is not possible. But Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, wants it known that the army is still democratic. Marshall points out that after the first nine months of service, any the "candidate schools" to train recruits for commissions. These schools will be organized during the last three months of the year of service.

In other words, as Napoleon put it, "Every soldier carries a mar-shal's baton in his knapsack."

POLITICAL CHAFF Democratic Rep. Bill Schulte of Indiana won a lot of kudos for himself from both the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. for his "prevailing wage" amendments to the bill for the construction of barracks for draftees. Liberal Rep. Frank Havenner of San Francisco got an unusual sendoff when he departed to open his campaign. President Roosevelt sent him a "good luck" telegram and Speaker Sam Rayburn a letter hailing him as one of the most valuable members of the house

Decommissioned Subs Go Back to Duty

These submarines, shown tied up at Charlestown, Mass., said their farewell to arms after the World war armistice in 1938. Now they are getting ready to stage a comeback. These eight, and many others, will be recommissioned and returned to duty with the planned Atlantic fleet. The navy expects to have 36 of these submarines ready for duty by January 1. In addition, it has 104 first-line submarines, and 81 more which are now in the process of building.

Mass Pilot Training Starts

Rapid expansion of the U. S. air corps begins November 1. Every five weeks 1,292 reserve fliers will be trained, until 50,000 pilots are turned Above, left, are neophyte fliers marching at Randolph field, Texas. Left, navy planes, and right, army planes. Chief of the army air corps,

Instead of a Campaign Button

Here's a new wrinkle, from Hollywood, designed by Max Factor Jr., for a red-hot political campaign. Starlets Joan Barclay and Muriel Zaler wear their choice for President in the form of an old-fashioned beauty patch, with the initials cut out of court plaster. As a fad it's good until November 6, but not a day longer.

Box Social And Dance

The Juniors are sponsoring a box social for Friday evening. Th students from the upper six grades are all invited to take part. The lunch boxes are to be furnished by the young ladies and will be sold to the highest bidders among the young men. A prize is to be given for the most attractive and tasty lunch box. We have set a price of not more than 20c for the lunch and an admission fee of 5c which is to pay for the music machine. Dancing will start at eight o'clock and at ten the boxes will be sold.

The money obtained will be used to pay for the play books so we're planning for a good time for a good crowd. Jerrine Mathews

Home Economics Extension Notes

Grayling Group I of the Home Economics Extension held the first lesson for the year last Thursday evening, October 24, at the home of Mrs. Hurl Deckrow. Fifteen members were and two guests, Mrs. Matt Bidvia and Mrs. John Papendick.

Following the usual business session, the lesson was very nicely given by the leader, Mrs. Dewey Palmer. The topic of discus-sion was "Kitchen Cupboards." This proved very interesting and beneficial both to those who plan to make new kitchen cupboards and those who are planning to remodel their old ones. Up-todate ways of making the cupboards so as to have the correct amount of storage space, spacing of shelves and drawers to suit each individual family. Also the correct heights for the different vorking units in the kitchen.

Meeting closed by the chair-man, Mrs. Florence Wakeley, The committee served a very nice lunch. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Serven on Monday evening, Nov. 11th. This will be the second lesson.

Secretary, Mrs. Baston Wakeley.

At Alpena, in a sea of mud under lights, Grayling's green and white football squad defeated a rangy Thunderbolt Reserve eleven, 27-6, last Saturday. The game completed the first regular scheduled football season Grayling has sponsored in fourteen years. The new Grayling footballers can show two victories, one tie, against three defeats as an acceptable performance for the season of 1940 in a new sport.

Grayling displayed a hard-running attack with a mixture of well-timed passes that were not to be denied. Grayling easily outplayed the Alpena "B" squad the entire game. A touchdown was scored in each quarter by the locals on plunges by Andrus and Clark, and on beautiful passes by Thompson to Dunham and Clark.

Andrus and Thompson made frequent long runs with the aid of good blocking and the tackling of the local squad was sharp. Ail in all, the boys expressed the feeling football was here to stay in Grayling and other years will be happy ones.

The grayling squad consisted of the following:: Ends-McDonnell, Melichar, Giegling, Anthony. Tackles Sorenson, LaChappel, Hatfield, Perry, Palmer.

Guards Gorman, Corwin, Kolca, Fairbotham. Centers—Welsh, Burns. Quarierbacks—Clark, Steven-
